Notable Experience

- I once collaborated with thirteen other artists on one project to create a digital art piece about environmental concerns. This experience had challenged not only my art skills but also my management and communication skills. In the end, we got a good grade and exceeded my professor's expectations.
- I am normally the one who organizes group activities within my friend group.
- I had one of my artworks displayed at a Group exhibition showcasing art across all Art students at West High, located at the Tracy Unified School District Office in 2020.
